FLOOR DEBATE

January 21, 2004 LB 602

pleasant surprise to all of us that want to go slow in this matter. Let me tell you just a little bit about what they said. No decision on stem cells. U.S. President's Council on Bioethics takes no position in a 400-page report. They covered it thoroughly.

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR JOHNSON: I can show you everything that they have. Sir, am I out of time?

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute, . . .

SENATOR JOHNSON: Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: . . . Senator Johnson.

SENATOR JOHNSON: I can show you all of the topics that they thoroughly went through, pages, with these 50 people as different . . . taking over different areas. They came to the conclusion, monitoring stem cell research, makes no recommendations and takes no particular ethical or policy position. Council Chair Kass said that the council declined to make specific recommendations because the stem cell research field is young. And the President's policy and its implementation is even younger. But we know it all here in Nebraska. We don't need to have 50 people working on this for years, the best minds . . .

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR JOHNSON: . . . in the country. We've got it all figured out.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Johnson and Senator Chambers.

SENATOR JOHNSON: Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Brown.
